at Logtown School gymnasium. Solist for service was Mrs. Barbara Osborn Nester, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Osborn, accompanied by Sylvia Rody, granddaughter of Mrs. Ethel Marshall. Church expects to continue in operation until NASA takes over early next year.

3 incumbents beat

Three incumbents bit the dust in unofficial returns on Tuesday's second primary voting in Hancock County were completed early Wednesday.

Narrowest margin of loss was that by County Superintendent of Education K. G. McCarty who was beat by nine votes by Robert F. Laddner, former Gulfview School principal. The unofficial count gave Laddner 2,741 to 2,732 for McCarty, in a re-match of the run-off four years ago.

Walter J. Phillips, former state representative topped the incumbent, Clarence M. Laddner, by 2,912 to 2,549 while for Justice of the Peace Post 1 in Beat 5, Nellus Rhodes, seeking a fourth term in office, was dumped by Peter Chiniche. The tally: Chiniche 1,583 and Rhodes 1,546.

Former Sheriff Sylvan J. Laddner piled up a 400-vote lead in Beat 5 and won another term as sheriff and tax collector defeating H. (Bully) Zengarleng 3,031 to 2,477. Zengarleng carried Beats 1 and 2.

Marie Quintini became the first woman elected to county-wide office when she defeated A. C. Mitchell, former clerk of courts, 2,914 to 2,591 in the race for chancery clerk. Miss Quintini is deputy clerk at present.

Hancock County voters gave Mayor John A. Scaffide of Bay St. Louis a 500-vote lead in his race with James Rester of Logtown for the 43rd State Senatorial District seat but Pearl River County ran up almost a 4,000 vote margin for Rester to hand him the Democratic nomination.

Rester got 2,486 in Hancock and 5,058 in Pearl River for a district total of 7,544. Scaffide, with heavy support in Beat 5, got 2,983 in his home county and 1,298 in Pearl River for a 4,281 total.

Gainesville precinct was the first to report Tuesday night and returns came in rapidly throughout the evening as a much shorter ballot for the run-off simplified the counting. Crane Creek was the last to come in, shortly before midnight.

Spectators jammed into the Courthouse and to the Joyce Hall to keep up with returns as they came in. An added attraction was speech-making on the Courthouse steps by the various candidates.

Circuit Clerk Lamar Ods estimated just over 5,500 voters.

Trio of supervisors withstand challenges

There'll be only one new face on the five-member county board of supervisors when it reorganizes next January, as a result of Tuesday's second primary.

The three incumbents thrown into the run-off came through after close skirmishes at the polls.

R. G. Hubbard, Jr., of Waveland won nomination for a fourth term as Beat 5 supervisor with a vote of 1,680 to 1,463 for Russell Elliott, according to unofficial returns compiled by the Echo. Elliott carried four of the 10 precincts in the district, the Courthouse and City Hall boxes in Bay St. Louis as well as Lakeshore and Clermont Harbor in the lower end of the beat.

Two north county supervisors were renominated for second terms. In Beat 4 James A. Necaise edged former supervisor Jack Lott 493 to 452, carrying four of the five precincts involved. Lott took the Kiln beat. Charles J. Lovinghouse in Beat 3 stopped a bid from P. S. Shaw as he lost only Crane Creek of the three precincts. Unofficial tally was Lovinghouse 354 and Shaw 305.

Dolph Kellar of Santa Rosa won nomination as Beat 2 supervisor in the first primary, defeating the incumbent, L. M. Frierson, by two votes and thus will be the only new supervisor to take office in January. There had been indications that Frierson, in his first term on the board, would challenge the results of the election but it is understood that the deadline for such protest has already expired without any action being initiated. Attorneys for the two candidates conducted their own recount two weeks ago.

The Beat 1 supervisor, Harlan G. Dean, was renominated.

Hancock gets bank at MTO

Hancock Bank of Bay St. Louis was awarded the contract to furnish mobile banking facilities at Mississippi Test Operations.

The local institution was the one bidder on the job when offerings were opened Tuesday by the Army Corps of Engineers. The bid in Mobile, according to James K. Glennon, press officer for the corps at MTO, inquiries had been received from several other firms.

Hancock agreed to pay the government $1,513.32 per year for five years to establish the mobile bank in the vicinity of the south entrance to the test site on Rt. 43. It will provide its own utilities for the operation.

Glennon said notice to proceed would be sent immediately.

Leo W. Seal, Jr., executive vice president of the bank, estimated Oct. 15 as opening date. A trailer with 1,300 square feet of space will be erected. It will measure 24 by 518 feet with seven cages, five inside and two drive-ins. A full time loan officer will be assigned and every facility except safe deposit boxes will be offered.

There has been an increase of 150 per cent in the working strength at MTO in the last two weeks, he reported. Contract employees now have 315 working men and the Corps of Engineers staff is at 46. Two weeks ago there were only 165 working for contractors.

Mea Hile General Piping, Inc., of Farmington, Mich., is apparent low bidder on the central heating plant at the test site on the basis of bids opened Wednesday by the corps in Mobile but (Cont. on Page 6.)

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT SAYLE.

Wagner sisters wed in double nuptials Saturday

Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church was the setting for the double wedding at noon Saturday of Miss Rosalie Ann Wagner to Ames Alphonse Kergosien, son of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence L. Kergosien, and Miss John Josephine Wagner to Robert Thomas Sayle of Greenwood, son of D. T. Sayle, Jr., of Greenwood and Mrs. M. Sayle of Gulfport.

The sisters are the daughters of Mrs. Malcolm A. Coward of North Beach and the late John J. Wagner.

Re. Rev. Magr. James J. Hannan was celebrant for the double ring ceremonies before the altar banked with arrangements of white gladioli and chrysanthemums.

Miss Rosalie Wagner was given in marriage by Mr. Coward, Miss Lynn Pique of Waveland and New Orleans was maid of honor while Mrs. Richard Russell of Hattiesburg, cousin of the groom was matron of honor. Sheldon Seuzeneau of Bay St. Louis was best man and Everett Kergosien of Hattiesburg, brother of the groom, was groomsman.

Miss John Wagner was escorted by her brother, Malcolm Coward, Jr., and met at the altar by Mr. Coward who gave her in marriage. Miss Janet French of Pass Christian was maid of honor and Miss Peggy Blake of Long Beach was bridesmaid. Mr. Sayle was best man for his son and Robert Hughes of Jackson was groomsman.

Ushering were Edmond Fahey of Bay St. Louis, Jack Case of Columbus, brother-in-law of Mr. Sayle, and Harry Sayle of Greenwood, uncle of Mr. Sayle. The brides' brothers, Malcolm Cowand, Jr., and Norman Coward, were altar boys for the nuptial mass.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. William Lamb on North Beach was the scene of the reception afterwards. Greenery and arrangements of white gladioli and mums adorned the rooms and there were two four-tiered wedding cakes on the brides' table.

Assisting in serving were Miss Courtney Coward, sister of the brides; Mrs. Peggy Pentecost of Gulfport, sister of Mr. Sayle; Mrs. Walter Korte of Indianopolis, Ind., sister of Mr. Kergosien; Mrs. Lamb, Mrs. Milton Robinson, Mrs. Charles Gremblin and Miss Sybil Kestner, both of New Orleans.

Mr. and Mrs. Kergosien left afterwards on a wedding trip to Florida and will make their home in Hattiesburg on their return.

Mr. and Mrs. Sayle will reside in Greenwood on their return from a honeymoon in points in Alabama.

JOHN NECAISE

Congratulations to Julie Yokum of New Orleans for being chosen to represent Loyola University on D. H. Holmes college board. She has a weekend home in Kiln and all of her friends are very proud of her. The group appeared on WDSU tv when Julie modeled a winter woolen suit.

Ferguson was a victim of an old chair which broke down on him against the door. The results of the mishap—several cuts and a great big hunk of hair absent. He reports he feels better now.

Wishes for a speedy recovery go to Laurie, Sonny, Pat and Albert Saucier who all received injuries in an accident last week near Kiln. Also in another accident near Kiln last week, seriously injured were Kaisal Lader and Clifford Malley. Lying around in her new 1963 car is Mrs. Effie Mazarakis. She is the envy of the neighborhood and no wonder with her interior, air conditioning, etc.

The talk of the area has been the new Standard Exchange that has been in business a couple of weeks back. There is no one any more pleased and delighted over Southern Bell's newest offspring than the Standard Exchange. The only connection between the northernmost and Kiln was an occasional letter or two but now with this exchange it's possible to phone some of my dear gossipy friends and learn who's dating who since John Daw and Jane Snow broke up. (Most sincere thanks to all those "Kats" at Southern Bell for making it possible)

Last Sunday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Necaise, Kiln, a surprise birthday party was held for Mrs. N. J. Necaise. Those attending were Connie, George, John, Ricky and Kevin Necaise, Peggy and Joe Cooley, Green, La., Myrna and Harry Stoen, Mrs. Michael Necaise, Jr., and Shirley, Teddy and Jeff Morrell all of Bay St. Louis and Nick J. Necaise. Cake and punch was served, presents were opened and chatting, of course. The party was enjoyed by all and was Mrs. Necaise's first birthday party.

Yours truly was in Gulfport Memorial Hospital last week for a minor operation.

Deepest sympathy to the Tubb Shaw family over the passing of Mr. Shaw, a beloved teacher at HNC. He will be missed by all who knew him.

Mary Beth Lader visited the home of Lander Necaise, her uncle, in Kiln.

Sympathy to the family of Mrs. Gertrude Lader Koenen who died last week after a long illness.

Sympathy also goes to the family of Mrs. Willie Inez Selph who passed away last week after being a patient at Hancock General for one week.

Receiving second and third degree burns as a result of an accident with a bucket of boiling tar was Kenneth Peterson, student at HNC. The accident occurred three weeks ago in Gulfport when attempting to carry a bucket of tar on a roof, Kenney tripped and tar covered his body. He reports seeing the tar coming toward his face and putting his right hand over his face. Thus his hand was covered with the boiling tar and was classified as third degree. His legs, arms, stomach and chest were second degree. He is feeling better than when going in but is still in great pain. None of the tar went on his face by some miracle. He will be in Gulfport Memorial Hospital for about three more weeks and would be glad to see any of his friends from HNC. So if you are down that way drop by and visit him.

Also in Gulfport Memorial is Sammy Cuevas, HNC student who is suffering from double pneumonia. (I don't believe he feels like receiving visitors at the time I am writing this.)

The Hancock North Central marching band, a little sad to see the summer vacation ending, but anxiously awaiting the coming football season began pre-school practice last week and is meeting today and Friday from 7 til 9 p. m. Under new direction, the band looks forward to a successful season. R. G. Vermilyea, band director, says the band has a good variety of instruments and sounds good. The band was unable to attend all the games last year, but will make all the games this year. Miss Paula Payne Harrel, drum major, will be responsible for field direction in the coming season.

Also in Gulfport Memorial Hospital is Therman DeChamp of Panton. Suffering a leg injury in an auto accident several years ago, Therman has undergone surgery several times and Tuesday underwent a bone graft.

Most of the recent headlines in the Mississippi River publication have been with the term "something left out." It is a term that has been used in many different ways, but it always means that something is missing or not included.

It is a term that has been used in many different ways, but it always means that something is missing or not included. It is a term that has been used in many different ways, but it always means that something is missing or not included.

We like it small

We suspect that most of the people who live in the Bay St. Louis area are like us. We like it small. We like the water, the fishing, the crabbing, the oystering, the sailing, the boating, the sun, the sand, the sea.

Limiting ourselves to the Bay-Waveland area we can think of many reasons for living here—the water with its fishing, crabbing, etc., and its other built-in advantages over most places. There are lots of good reasons for that type for people to want to live in Pearl River, Kila, Waveland, Bay St. Louis, Leetown, etc.

Probably the best reason, however, since no money can't be the reason, lies in all those underlying attitudes that make most of our people want to live in each other from street to car, car to car, across the street or where ever. Most of us do it even when we don't particularly like the other guy. It's friendliness and just thinking acting friendly usually leads to being friendly and that leads to being considerate and from there to being helpful.

There are a lot of reasons we prefer Bay St. Louis and Hancock County and the smaller communities to our big cities with all their material advantages, but one of those "helpful" things a couple weeks ago reminded us of it. We watched Mr. Luke Benigno at the postoffice carefully open one of Uncle Sam's stamped envelopes for a lady to wrap it around a newspaper she wanted to mail. He didn't say "open this up and wrap your paper in it."

Don't know if it was our paper.

Changing Times says: "We could solve two of the world's biggest problems. Just have Castro and Chiang Kai-shek trade islands." Mighty good idea but hell on the Formosans.

By Roger Babson's staff How's business?

Consumers will be happy to note that most commodities this year are expected to be of record production. Beef, pork and poultry are all likely to chalk up significant gains in production over last year, but output of wool, lamb, and cotton will be lower. This is on the basis of physical volume, or pounds of meat produced, in terms of dollar value, the increase in 1963 will be retarded somewhat by the low prices for most meat products.

In the past decade, there has been a vast outpouring of meat products, concentrated almost entirely in the poultry and beef categories. Poultry output last year totaled 7.1 billion pounds, up to 69 per cent over the production of 1952. Beef was up 61 per cent from 9.6 billion pounds in 1952 to 15.5 billion pounds in 1962. As a result, the wholesale price of poultry during this period has climbed sharply, and the price of beef likewise has tumbled badly.

This combination of rising output and declining prices has made for a pleasant advantage to consumers. Accordingly, during the past ten years the per capita consumption of beef rose from 40 to 48 pounds and there was a 30 per cent increase in the consumption of poultry. But price declines have not the same effect on the total meat consumption. Beef and poultry, the two major meat categories, are the only ones that have increased their share of the total meat consumption. Beef's share rose from 40 to 48 per cent, and poultry's from 30 to 38 per cent.

ONE THOUSANDETH TRACT -- Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Otis sign their family home at Logtown, Miss., over to Mississippi Testing Operations with Joe E. Graham, chief of the acquisition section, U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, witnessing the transaction. This signing marked the 1,000th option to the government made by Hancock Countians. Mr. and Mrs. Otis bought this homestead as a bride and groom 41 years ago and have lived there since. They plan to move into New Orleans.

Shattuck gets 8th term as EPA director

H. H. Shattuck, manager of Coast Electric Power Assn., was re-elected to his eighth consecutive term as state director to represent the more than 250,000 Electric Power Association members on the Board of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Assn. during the annual state meeting last weekend at Edgewater Gulf Hotel.

Shattuck also serves as executive commissioner for the four state regions of Alabama, Kentucky, Mississippi, and Tennessee and will preside at the regional meeting in Biloxi next month, expected to be attended by over 700 delegates from the four states.

In keeping with the slogan "There is No REA in Mississippi," the group officially was renamed the Electric Power Association of Mississippi rather than Mississippi REA as in the past.

Among those attending the weekend jamboree and festivities Friday night from here were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Watts, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. James Fillingame, Mr. and Mrs. Farris Gregory, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Blair, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Becker, Charles Carter, Jr., Miss Kathy Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Shattuck and family.

Youth honored at communion service

A corporate communion service at Christ Episcopal Church Sunday honored the young people planning to leave for college in the near future. A breakfast in the parish house followed.

Compton, Patsy White, and Utrike Winckelmann, University of Southern Mississippi; Bay Chamberlain, Newcomb College; Walter Chamberlain, St. Martin's Episcopal School in New Orleans; Alfred Watts, Mississippi State University; Bill Watts, Tulane; Ripple Rausch, LSU and Sue Porter, All Saints Episcopal School.

TO THE PEOPLE
OF BEAT 5

My main regret in not getting the majority vote for Supervisor is that I disappointed you who worked so hard in my behalf, even though I too exerted every effort possible.

Surely your decision to stand up and vote your own convictions against tremendous opposition and concerted persuasion is most praiseworthy. To the Victor, I hope he realizes that I have been devoted to the welfare and betterment of the Community for the past 23 years, and my services for the good of our fellow citizens are at his disposal. To his supporters I hold no ill feelings or malice as I fully respect your rights and privileges under our American Democratic system. You did him a wonderful job. I thank all of you for the consideration shown me, especially those of you who helped me.

I ask all my followers to join with me in cooperating with the elected officials, and under God's guidance, may we have a very wonderful and prosperous future four years.

Sincerely

Russell J. Elliott

Many Thanks

from

R. G. "Manny" Hubbard

Thank you for re-electing me Supervisor of District 5. I am very grateful to the people who worked so untiringly in my behalf. A candidate is only as strong as the friends who stand behind him. It makes me very happy to know there are so many people who believe in good honest government. I believe the next four years will show a definite turn toward better and better things in Hancock County. Thank you for giving me the opportunity to do my share in bringing this about.

THANKS

My sincere thanks to the good people of Hancock County who saw fit to vote for me on August 27. I shall always be grateful.

Respectfully

Mildred Baum reigns over Poppy Ball

Mildred Baum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Baum, reigned over the seventh annual Poppy Coronation Ball Thursday at the American Legion Home. Laureen Turcotte, Miss Poppy for 1963, crowned the queen with a poppy wreath. The ball, sponsored by the Legion auxiliary, honors junior auxiliary members assisting with poppy sales.

Miss Baum was escorted by her brother, Jackie.

Maids for the occasion and their escorts were Charlene Piazza and Clarence Piazza, Agnes Wilkerson and John Wilkerson, Jr., and Nikki Romanoff and Mike Romanoff. Trainbearer was Ben North while Julie Piazza served as crown bearer.

Mrs. C. J. Piazza, auxiliary president, conducted the event, opened with a prayer by junior chaplain Terry Benigno. Legionnaire Lucien Kidd spoke briefly on the poppy and its meaning and Jeanne Rutherford, junior chairman, presented gifts to the court. Parents of the queen were introduced and Mrs. Baum was honored with a poppy corsage.

Michael Reinke entertained the court with a selection of piano solos and Vikki McCaleb and Linda Luxich performed several dance numbers.

Faith of Our Fathers

Every generation is beset with problems, and we have our share of them. There's no doubt about that.

Even those of us who read as we run or have one ear to the ground or open to the sound waves that come over the air, know that the Ship of State is being tossed on the deep. Rudderless and aimless at times, its course is set neither by the compass nor the stars.

Things our generation held sacred are being shattered, as arbitrary courts or executive orders set aside custom, tradition, the Constitution and common sense to challenge the freedom of the individual, the sanctity of the home and the ownership of property.

Expediency takes the place of principle and extravagance is substituted for economy. Deeper and deeper into debt we mortgage the futures of unborn generations that we may enjoy a little transient and spurious prosperity.

As government runs roughshod to undermine our solvency with oppressive taxation and destroys the character of its citizens with political pap, its courts, with contempt for the Bill of Rights, would even deny to the people the privilege of prayer.

But amid all the confusion that surrounds us, only the complacency of an indifferent citizenship could wreck the Republic. As the Ship of State rides out the storm, will people awaken to the reality of these troubled times?

The ballot box, conscientiously and intelligently used, is a safe anchor, but that is not enough.

We need, as we have so often before, the Faith of Our Fathers. It guided them through the storms of the past, and with the courage of their convictions and the help of God, the Republic endured. By their faith and their works, we have a priceless heritage.

Despite the perils that pursue us, whenever we resolve to pass on to posterity the heritage we received unsullied from our founding fathers, fortune will smile upon us and our children, and a reunited people will rededicate themselves to the unfinished task of forming a more perfect union.

We Thrive On Thrift

Another ball season ends

Local ball action, save for an all-day softball tournament slated Sunday, is over and done with for another season. Trophies were awarded Thursday and Friday nights at City Ball Park to various players in leagues, completing a summer of recreation for all ages.

Southern Realty, Mollere Realty, Seven-Up, and Fehy Drug made the big noises in 1963, a year filled as always with surprises and upsets, suspense and thrills. New champions were crowned in each of the local leagues as the above four replaced Reinthe, OLG, Ken's Little Diggers and Youth Center.

The Little League's surprise team was Gulf Coast Express, turning into a powerhouse after a second division finish in 1962. The Catholic Youth Organization, only new entry of the Bay Softball League, provided one of the highlights with a fifth-place finish, barely missing the four-team playoffs. Our Lady of the Gulf, undefeated and invincible in '62, could win only twice in 18 outings this year but fielded a different team that gained important experience for next summer.

The only real disappointment came in the Pony League where enough interest wasn't gained to start a proper league after several good seasons. There is talk, however, of shifting Pony League games to a night time slot (at least in part) in hopes of regaining past interest.

Anyway, as we've said before, the importance of the Parks and Playgrounds Commission's summer program is to provide the people of this area with wholesome recreation and enjoyment. As long as everyone keeps this in mind, the lights will continue to burn each summer at City Ball Park.

Musial retires

In a sense, a baseball era will come to an end next month when Dale Frank Musial finally hangs up his uniform. Musial has remained one of the game's greatest stars on and off the field for 22 years since he broke in with the St. Louis Cardinals in 1941.

Musial has survived throughout the days of Cardinal pennant-winners, Bobby Thompson's immortal home run, Casey Stengel's Yankees, Continental League plans and the West Coast move, the M and M kids and the lively ball, and the new and enlarged strike zone. Stan will survive forever in the hearts and minds of his followers and we join with many others in wishing him the best of everything.

Side bars

A limited number of tickets are still available for the big National Football League doubleheader at Tulane Stadium in New Orleans next Saturday Sept. 7. Starting at 6:30 p. m. the twin-bill will feature the Baltimore Colts, Dallas Cowboys, Detroit Lions and Chicago Bears.

A couple more names join the list of local boys taking part in pre-season football practice under Coach Dobie Holden at Pearl River Junior College. Dave Smith and Frank Miller, a pair of ends, Miller, an all-Gulf Coast Conference pick while at BayHigh, was instrumental in the Tigers' championship drive while Smith sat a most of his senior year due to injuries after looking real good the line the previous season.

With next week's edition, the sports pages of the Echo be turned over to Pat McGinty while we head into our first of college.

We'll take this opportunity to thank the many people who helped us during the more than two years we've covered the sports scene.

League and play-off competition. Jo Ann Colson and Maxine Sweetman both repped two hits in four trips to the plate for Jerome. Freda Pernicaro was 3-3 for OLG and Melva Luke added 2-3. Jo Ann Colson went the distance on the mound for the victory with Margie Lenfant absorbing the defeat.

Even in this nuclear age, nothing equals the explosion caused by a little loose powder on a man's sleeve.

Thank You!

It is with a grateful heart and a deep sense of humility that I express to the people of the Second Judicial District my appreciation for the wonderful vote you cast for me on August 6th, returning me to office for a fourth term as your District Attorney. On behalf of my family, my co-workers and staff, and all of those who worked so hard in my behalf during the recent campaign I extend thanks for them to you, and from me to them, for their efforts.

We received 70% of the total votes cast on August 6th. This endorsement by you of my efforts for you, your family, and the respective communities in which we live reflects my faith, courage, and dedication to these responsibilities in the years that lie ahead.

I enjoyed every rally, every handshake, and every friendly greeting, and it was a refreshing experience to visit the wonderful communities of this district again.

The future of your children and mine is linked inseparably together. To make their world a better place in which to live will continue to be our common goal.
